

Jon.Zeljo@colorado.edu for more information.

Other TEA Opportunities

NCTA-TEA Seminar: Teaching Korea in the Globalizing World . In summer/fall 2017, TEA will offer a 30-hour NCTA seminar for 30 Colorado and Wyoming teachers, grades 6-12. Participating teachers will interact with the modern world, working with Korean studies scholars on topics such as colonialism, democracy, the Cold War, communism, command economics, and capitalism in the past 125 years. They will also consider how and what to teach about North and South Korea. Participants will receive stipends, materials, and the opportunity to apply for NCTA-sponsored study tours to East Asia. Offered through a combination of online, residential, and one-day workshop formats with funding from the Korea and Freeman Foundations. Information and application available in mid-February.

Five College Center on East Asian Studies and TEA Cosponsor Webinar: Somewhere Among. Tuesday, April 11, 2017. This webinar will feature author Annie Donwerth-Chikamatsu, whose book Somewhere Among tells the story of a bicultural fifth-grader living in Japan in 2001. Register here .

National Opportunities

@ P L Q W K H [€ . • ` ` @ ` € ` ` T R I € ° 0 € 00 D U Q € @ p `

artifacts in the Korean War Digital Archive. The conference will be held in Washington, DC. Teachers who complete related initiatives will become eligible for travel support and a possible future study tour to Korea. Application for the summer conference is available here .

(grade 12 and younger), and junior (grade 8 and younger) divisions; the sijo category has only one division, open to students in grade 12 and younger. For more information, visit the Sejong Cultural Society website; its resource page includes a number of supports for teaching about sijo.

USS Midway Institute Programs for Teachers: The Cold War, Korea, and Vietnam, June 25 – July 8, 2017, and WWII in the Pacific: Clash of Nations and Perspectives, July 9 – 15, 2017. Application deadline: Sunday, March 12, 2017. The USS Midway Institute presents two summer programs featuring notable historians, field trips, ship tours, and more. In addition, participating teachers receive instructional materials, a website.

Colorado Programs

Speaker Series: Asia Borderlands: Remembering the Japanese-American Internment — 75 Years 2017.02.23. Thursday, February 23, 2017, 4:30-6:30 pm. The Center for Asian Studies and Center of the American West are cosponsoring this talk by Tom Ikeda, Executive Director of Densho: Japanese American Legacy Project in Seattle, a grassroots organization dedicated to preserving, educating, and sharing the story of World War II-era incarceration of Japanese Americans. Tom has conducted more than 200 video-recorded, oral history interviews with Japanese Americans. He will be joined by CU faculty Patty Limerick, Daryl Maeda, and Marcia Yonemoto to discuss the historic and current ramifications of “borders within borders.” The event will be in the British and Irish Studies Room at Norlin Library on the CU Boulder campus. Event information is available here.

Performance: Denver Taiko. Friday, March 10, 2017, 7 pm. Denver Taiko, an ensemble of third-, fourth-, and fifth-generation Japanese Americans, will be performing at the Broomfield Auditorium (3 Community Park Road). Tickets are available here.

Previously Announced Colorado Programs

Film Screening: Persona Non Grata. Thursday, February 16, 2017, 7:45 pm. Persona Non Grata, a biopic of Japanese diplomat Chiune Sugihara, Lithuania, Sugihara risked his career and family to assist more than 6,000 Jews. The film will be shown at the Elaine Wolf Theater (350 S. Dahlia St., Denver). Sponsored by the Sakura Foundation and the Japanese American Resource Center of Colorado. For more information or to order tickets, visit the Mizel Arts and Culture Center website.

NCTA State and Local Opportunities

Southern California NCTA Seminar: Traditional East Asia: Origins to 1800 . February 27, 2017 – May 8, 2017. This seminar offers in-depth presentations on the history and culture of the region and helps K-12 educators incorporate these learnings into their teaching. The course consists of six Monday evening sessions (5-8 pm) and three Saturday sessions (9 am - 3:30 pm). Sponsored by NCTA and the University of Southern California U.S.-China Institute. More information and application available here.

Featured Resource